It's Easy To Color-Coordinate Your Lingerie

Wishy-washy colors in lingerie are not not fashionable this year. No need to buy slips, petticoats, bras and panties, however, to have the lovely and gay-colored intimate wear that is fashionable, not when all purpose Rit dye is so easy to use and so inexpensive, too.

What color to choose? Take your clues from the trim of your favorite summer dress for peekaboo petticoats—a blue or coral, for instance. Or, to satisfy an urge of your exotic inner woman, choose a mad, wild color such as scarlet or purple (no one else may know but it will show in the sparkle of your eyes). The Rit color chart in your local store shows what colors to expect when dyeing white or slightly yellowed fabrics.

Lingerie takes to easy washbowl dyeing like the proverbial duck to water. Just follow the simple directions in each box remembering always that wet material appears darker—so allow your lingerie to become a slightly deeper shade than the one you desire before final rinsing.

Crispy Stuffed Meat Loaf

An inexpensive year 'round treat for family and friends is "Crispy Stuffed Meat Loaf"—a novel new main dish that stretches two pounds of meat into 8 to 10 servings. The secret of the stretching is a stuffing of crispy saltine crackers, and the addition of stuffed olives and dry mustard give a true gourmet flavor. Serve hot or cold. Make it this week, this easy way:

Crispy Stuffing

2 cups coarse Krispy Saltine Cracker crumbs (24 doubles)
½ cup chopped stuffed olives
½ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
1 egg, beaten

Mix together all ingredients. Set aside.

Meat Mixture

2 pounds ground round or chuck beef
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons minced onion
2 eggs, beaten
¾ cup catsup
½ cup very fine Krispy Saltine Cracker crumbs (10 doubles)

Glaze

¼ cup catsup
½ teaspoon dry mustard

Meat loaf: Mix all meat mixture ingredients together. Lightly grease meat loaf pan (about 9" x 5" x 3") with a neutral salad oil. Line bottom and sides with about ⅔ of the meat mixture, pressing gently. Add stuffing mixture and press gently. Make layer of remaining meat on top and pinch edges together, press down gently. Loosen loaf from sides of pan with spatula, invert on shallow baking pan, tap bottom of pan and remove. Glaze: Mix catsup with mustard and spread, or brush, over top and sides of loaf. Bake in preheated hot oven, 400°F. for about an hour or until done. If desired, about 15 minutes before cooking is complete, top may be decorated with sliced whole olives. Serve hot or cold. Accompany with more catsup if desired. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.
